

Walla Walla

Photographs from around town and throughout the valley.

Photography by Brent J. Bergherm

---

ISBN-13: 978-0-9794020-0-5 | ISBN-10: 0-9794020-0-X

First published in the United States of America in 2007 by Brent Bergherm Photography

www.brentbergherm.com | www.picturewallawalla.com

© 2007 Brent J. Bergherm

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without prior consent of the publisher.

Each photograph in this book is an original creation by Brent J. Bergherm. Digital modifications have been kept to a minimum and were only used to correct for color balance and cropping.

Each photograph remains faithful to its slide original.

All slides were scanned with a Nikon film scanner and processed in Adobe Photoshop.

Cover Photo: Falkenberg's Clock is a well-known landmark in Downtown Walla Walla.

Pillar detail of the Banner Bank Building.
Downtown Walla Walla.

A county road leads through a wheat field and towards the power turbines at Stateline Wind Project.

A sprinkler system stands idle in a local wheat field until next season.

Rolling wheat fields can be found throughout the county, like this one here, which is very similar to the famous Palouse region.